Laws of the United States

Passed at the First Session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress.

[Public—No. 6.]

AN ACT making additional appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and appropriations for arrearages for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following sums be and the same are hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the support of the army for the year ending the thirtieth of June, eighteen hundred and sixty-two.

For expenses of recruiting, transportation of recruits from the different rendezvous to general depots, procuring of medical attendance, and all other expenses attending the raising of twenty-four thousand two hundred and eighty-five men, to be organized into nine regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry, and one regiment of artillery, as per general orders number sixteen, dated War Department, Adjutant-General's Office, Washington, May fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, three hundred and fifty-eight thousand dollars.

For purchase of books of tactics and instruction for the volunteers, fifty thousand dollars.

For pay of the army, three million nine hundred and sixty-nine thousand eight hundred and forty-eight dollars and eighty-eight cents.

For commutation of officers' subsistence, four hundred and seventy-eight thousand three hundred and seventeen dollars and sixty cents.

For commutation of forage for officers' horses seventy-three thousand and fifty-six dollars.

For payments in lieu of clothing for officers' servants, fifty-seven thousand one hundred and eighty dollars.

For pay of the three months' volunteers, two million five hundred and seven thousand dollars.

For pay of the two and three years' volunteers, fifty-five million dollars.

For subsistence in kind for regular troops, two million four hundred and ninety-three thousand four hundred and ninety-seven dollars and fifty cents.

For subsistence in kind for two and three years' volunteers, twenty-three million eighty-four thousand two hundred and eighty-four dollars.

For the regular supplies of the quartermaster's department, consisting of fuel for the officers, enlisted men, guard, hospital, storehouses, and offices; of forage in kind for the horses, mules, and oxen of the quartermaster's department at the several posts and stations, and with the armies in the field; for the horses of the regiments of dragoons, and for authorized number of officers' horses when serving in the field and at the outposts, including bedding for the animals; of straw for soldiers' bedding; and of stationery, including blank books for the quartermaster's department, certificates for discharged soldiers, blank forms for the pay and quartermaster's department, and for printing of division and department orders and reports, fourteen million two hundred and sixty-five thousand fifty-nine dollars and thirty-seven cents.

For the incidental expenses of the quartermaster's department, consisting of postage on letters and packets received and sent by officers of the army on public service; expenses of courts martial and courts of inquiry, including the additional compensation of judges, advocate, recorders, members, and witnesses, while on that service, under the act of eighteen hundred and two; extra pay to soldiers employed under the direction of the quartermaster's department in the erection of barracks, quarters, storehouses, and hospitals, in the construction of roads, and other constant labor, for periods of not less than ten days, under the acts of second of March, eighteen hundred and nineteen, and of fourth of August, eighteen hundred and fifty-four, including those employed as clerks at division and department headquarters; expenses of expresses to and from the frontier posts and armies in the field; of escorts to paymasters and other disbursing officers, and to trains where military escorts cannot be furnished; expenses of interment of officers killed in action, or who die when on duty in the field, or at the posts on the frontier, or at other posts and places when ordered by the Secretary of War, and of non commissioned officers and soldiers; authorized office furniture; hire of laborers in the quarter-master's department, including the hire of interpreters and guides for the army; compensation of clerks to officers of the quarter-master's department; compensation of forage and wagon masters, authorized by the act of fifth July, eighteen hundred and thirty-eight; for the apprehension of deserters and the expenses incident to their pursuit; and for the following expenditures required for the regiments of dragoons and light artillery, viz: the purchase of traveling forges, blacksmiths' and shoeing tools, horse and mule shoes and nails, iron and steel for shoeing, hire of veterinary surgeons, medicines for horses and mules, forage ropes, and for shoeing the hor-

The Two Furrows.

BY C. F. WEAD.

The spring-time came—it met with mirth—
The banner of our free
And with it the best hope of earth,
Were trusting in the dust.

The Farmer saw the cloud from far,
And stopped his plow-mates;
"Not the blade of peaceful war
This storm of mine must shed."

"When traitor hands shall find—they would stain,
Then—arms let wicked keep;
Until the stars burn bright again,
Let others sow and reap."

The Farmer sighed—"A life-time long
The plow has been my friend;
In truth it were an arrant wrong
To leave it now to rend."

With ready strength the Farmer tore
The plow from the wood,
And to the village smithy bore
That plow-share stout and good.

The blacksmith's arms were bare and brown,
And loud the bellows roared;
The Farmer flung his plow-share down—
"Now forge me out a sword!"

And then a merry, merry chime
The sounding anvil rang;
Glad earth, it was a noble hymn
Than ever poet sung.

The blacksmith wrought with skill that day,
The blade was keen and bright,
And now where thickest is the fray
The Farmer leads the fight.

Not as of old that blade he wrings
To break the meadow's sleep,
But through the rebel ranks he lays
A furrow broad and deep.

The Farmer's face is furrowed and brown,
But light is on his brow,
Right well he wots what Heavenly crown
The furrow of the plow.

"But better is to-day's success"—
Thus ran the farmer's word—
"For nations yet unborn will bless
This furrow of the sword."

EXCITEMENT AT LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.—The the telegraph gives us the Louisville Courier's account of the excitement in Lexington, when the guns and munitions of war for the United States camp in Garrard county passed through that town. We have another account from a more trustworthy source in the particulars of that affair. It appears that there was a lively sensation when it was known that the guns had arrived on the Louisville train. John C. Breckinridge is reported to have said that if he had fifty men he would show the Lincolnites about taking those guns through the town. Presently there was a commotion. The Secessionists sounded the alarm by blowing a horn, and rushed to their armories. The Union Home Guards gave the alarm by ringing a bell, and repaired to their armories. In a few minutes the streets were full of armed men rushing to and fro, loading their guns as they hurried to their places of rendezvous. The man who was to receive the guns and take them out to camp was by this time cool as a cucumber. When told that he might have trouble, he said that he had anticipated an excitement, and had provided for contingencies by having an escort at hand. Sure enough, it was not long before two hundred United States cavalry made their appearance, and it was known that five hundred infantry were not far off. Then Breckinridge was not so anxious as he had been to stop the guns with fifty men, and became a member of the "peace party." So the guns, etc., were put into the wagons and taken to their destination.—Cor. Buc. Union.

Legal Notice.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah County. A. M. A. Blanchet, Complainant, vs. Oswald Travaillot, Defendant. In Chancery.

TO OSWALD TRAVAILLOT, Defendant: You are hereby notified that A. M. A. Blanchet has this day filed in my office his bill of complaint, and commenced a suit against you, in which he avers that on the tenth day of June, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, you made and delivered to him a certain promissory note for the sum of six hundred dollars, payable ten months after date, with interest at the rate of two per cent. per month, and at the same time made, acknowledged and delivered certain mortgage deeds upon lots numbered three and four in block number three, in Couch's claim or addition to the City of Portland, to the county aforesaid, as security for the payment of said note; and complainant prays for a decree of foreclosure and for the sale of the said mortgaged premises to pay the amount due upon said mortgage, to wit: The sum of six hundred dollars and interest as aforesaid since the twenty-eighth of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, and for a judgment against you for any balance which may remain unpaid after the application of the proceeds of the sale of said property for the payment of said debt; and you are further notified that unless you appear in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah on the second Monday of November, A. D. 1861, and then and there answer the said bill of complaint, the same will be taken as confessed, and the prayer thereof will be granted by the Court.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of this Court this 12th day of August, A. D. 1861.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 17, 1861.

Martial Law in Missouri.

From the course of action adopted by Gen. Fremont, it appears as if the Secessionists have at last met a man who is disposed to act as decisively and unrelentingly in favor of the right, as their leaders have done, since the commencement of this contest, in the wrong. He proposes, by a series of offensive and retaliatory measures, to wipe out Disunionism. In order to do this effectually, he has brought to bear the terrible engineery of martial law.

Of course this act has provoked the plaintive howls of the daily sympathizer in this city, and of all its co-ordinate and subordinate howlers throughout the country. It is but natural for them do so; because their active accomplices in treason are about to get their deserts.

The reader should recollect, that previous to resorting to extreme measures, the Disunionists had levied armed forces against the United States, invited the assistance—through the traitor Jackson—of the Confederate traitors, burnt bridges, tore up railroads, fired on Union troops which were passing through the State under orders from the Federal Government, and in addition to a thousand other atrocious acts of treason, had fought two general actions with the United States troops with armed corps of domestic traitors, and the hands of desperadoes from the South. In the face of all these things, the sympathizers here are displeased at the action of the Government, thus giving another proof that their hearts are not with the Union cause.

The Disunionists of Missouri have dared the dread arbitrament of the sword; they have taken up arms to tear down the fabric of the Union; they have acted offensively from the start, and now the day of reckoning is at hand; they are about to be crushed. Seventy thousand Union troops—a large portion of them citizens of Missouri—marching to the "music of the Union," are on her soil to protect the loyal and to kill the disloyal. This army of the gallant sons of the North-west is composed of the best men of that section—lovers of law and order, the best of friends of Missouri. They are the offspring of the most daring and hardy of all the older States,—the chivalry of the forest and the plain. Before their patriotic ranks the troops of Hardee and McCulloch will be scattered like chaff before the wind.

The sympathetic dodgers here, find great fault with the interference with Gov. Gamble's functions, and the confiscation of slave property. Gov. Gamble being a patriot, has undoubtedly sanctioned Gen. Fremont's course; and traitorous owners of negroes will have to abide the consequences of their own actions. Those who own negroes—"protected by the Constitution"—must either support the Union cause, or all their property—including negroes—will be taken from them.

The Advertiser should set itself up as a prophet. Some days ago it prophesied that the Secessionists would carry the election in California. Now it prophecies that they will soon carry all the loyal States. It will be found to be as true in the last case as the first. The editor is "catching at straws."

The Government has determined to arrest all persons in the Free States who hold unlawful communication with the rebels. Certain Secession Democrats in the Northern cities are closely watched. The Government will exert its whole power to punish treason in all the loyal States.

It is reported that Mr. Russell, the correspondent of the London Times, will not be permitted to cross the Potomac again, on the ground that his letters do not fairly represent the condition of affairs here, and have a tendency to create injurious impressions abroad.

Details of Eastern News.

To the 31st of August.

Gen. McCulloch's Confederate troops, after taking possession of Springfield, have sent out their cavalry towards the Kansas frontier, with the purpose of marauding. Gen. Fremont considered that the demonstrations of the enemy indicated a purpose to attack Jefferson City, and has sent up a force of 10,000 men to that point.

In South-eastern Missouri Gen. Prentiss' movements indicates a purpose to attack Gen. Pillow or Gen. Hardee, but it was supposed that the latter rebel had retreated across the Arkansas line. Gen. Prentiss' force is estimated at 20,000 men.

There were about 30,000 Federal troops at St. Louis on the 29th of August, and they were rapidly improving in efficiency. Gov. Gamble's proclamation calls for 42,000 Missouri militia; 10,000 cavalry, and 32,000 infantry, to be organized as State troops and controlled by the State authorities.

The screw gun-boats to be used on the Mississippi River will be cannon-shot proof. The dimensions will be as follows: Length 175 feet, breadth of beam, 51½ feet, depth of hold, 6 feet. Each boat will mount sixteen heavy guns, carry a suitable number of men to work them, and draw not more than six feet of water. The hull, and all the upper portion of the boat including the machinery, will be plated with iron two and a half inches in thickness. The cost of each boat when completed, will be $80,000. It is intended to have them completed for delivery at Cairo by the 10th of October.

The Provost Marshal has closed the liquor-shops in St. Louis,—cause,—the volunteers got too much to drink.

Gen. Wool is getting things into shape at Fort Monroe. He is very active, and efficient.

The Louisville Journal notifies the Secessionists of Kentucky that if they try to precipitate internal hostilities, the Unionists are ready for the conflict.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says that there is no truth in the reports that Garibaldi proposes to help us out of our troubles. A gentleman here, personally acquainted with Garibaldi and his son, received a letter a few days ago in which the son says he desired himself to come out and take a part in the struggle now going on here for liberty, but that his father objected, on the ground that ours was a family quarrel, and could be settled more easily without foreign interference than with it; that it was based on a political question in which the nations were not interested, and in the settlement of which they could not become parties. These are now the views and sentiments of Garibaldi, and expressed by his son in a private correspondence of a very late date.

Gen. McClellan recently reviewed the forces at Washington, and was much pleased with their improvement in discipline.

The recent urgent demand for additional troops at Washington, was undoubtedly in anticipation of an attack on the Capital by the Confederate forces.

The New York Sixty-ninth regiment is to be reorganized. Col. Nugent is at present in command.

Letters from East Tennessee speak of a growing rebel force at Camp Boone, near Clarksville—the headquarters of the N. W. C. Their plan is, after posting 1,800 men, to lay the country in waste from Cumberland Gap through East Tennessee and Kentucky to the Ohio river, and along that to Pennsylvania. The whole force is not to move together, but to be divided into small marauding parties.

An attack on Tompkinsville, Texas, being apprehended recently, Colonel Harris collected nearly 2,000 Unionists, secured Sibley arms for them and awaited the rebels, but they disappointed him. Many of the Tennessee Fits who won laurels in Mexico under Colonel Campbell, are joining the Union forces.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20th.—All volunteers in the service who have been taken prisoners by the rebels and released on parole will be discharged from the service.

NEW YORK, August 27th.—by an arrival from Antigua, in the British Indies, we learn a demonstration recently took place there in consequence of the housing of a Confederate flag from the building of the consignees of a Southern vessel. An American captain in port insisted on its being hauled down, and the people reminded by cutting it to pieces.

A special despatch to the New York Post, dated, Washington, 27th, says: "A letter received here from Tennessee announces that 25,000 rebels are under arms in that State. In the Lagrange district all but 25 of the male inhabitants have enlisted in the rebel army."

The pickets of Beauregard's army are nearer Arlington Heights than ever before, but this fact, it is believed, does not indicate an attack.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 29th.—Surveyor Cotton has published a card directing the seizure of all wagons, vehicles and steamboats transporting articles for the rebels after September 1st.

WASHINGTON, August 18th.—A messenger from the Virginia side this morning states that our picket forces advanced to Bailey's Cross Roads yesterday, and drove the Secession pickets a mile and a half. It is said the latter have taken possession of a commanding eminence, and are throwing up entrenchments. There was much firing during the day, but without fatal results. It is reported that a dash of Secession cavalry was made at what was supposed to be a deserted cannon. After about twelve rounds had been fired at it from howitzers, on a near approach, however, they discovered it to be a sham.

NEW YORK, August 26.—The Philadelphia Press to-day says Gen. McClellan went out several miles last Friday, to review Gen. Hooker's brigade. He returned to the city after dark. During the review a number of Secessionists were discovered in ambush, and were arrested near the road, between the troops and the city. It is thought their object was to assassinate Gen. McClellan.

ST. LOUIS, August 30th, 1 P. M.—At nine o'clock this morning five hundred mounted armed rebels made their appearance in town. Several arrests are reported to have been made by them, including two United States army recruiting officers. No disturbance of a serious nature has yet taken place. Rebels are prowling through the city in every direction.

ST. LOUIS, August 30th.—The rebels retired from the city about noon, taking their prisoners, (who are large in number. The withdrawal of Federal forces some days ago has given them a broad field for their depredations.

The Coming Emigrants.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Our country is but thinly settled, and our grand interests, that many good citizens shall emigrate to this State and cast their lots among us. The rebellion in the United States may continue yet for years to come. So far, with few exceptions, peace has prevailed on this coast. There is no other section in our Union, where the regular routine of justice, and of trade and social relations is observed, as at present in this coast. Thousands in the States are no doubt anxiously looking towards this coast, as a home and asylum from wars and strife. Some are on their way here by land and by water. Every person coming here, has an influence more or less in the country from which he, or she came.

After a long and tiresome journey, over arid plains and dreary deserts, and cut off from society and home comforts, how cheering, how soothing, are true kindness and sincere friendships tendered here towards the way-worn emigrants. And let them be thus received here, and thus treated, they will soon assimilate with us, form close friendships, and feel at home. Their letters, to their friends and acquaintances in the States, will partake of their feelings and will emit sunshine to their friends, left far behind. They will encourage others to emigrate here, and thus will members draw numbers, until by our natural increase and by accessions from abroad, our broad valley and fertile hills will be thickly settled, by an industrious and enterprizing people.

Policy as well as humanity and justice, would require that we treat all new-comers with kindness, fairness and true dealings. Prices now of all articles made or produced here, are extremely low now. We should not go about to establish the high price system here, at the cost of the emigrants who may arrive here.

The emigrants should be sought out, and houses and supplies offered them; and every information rendered them, by which they can buy decent land, or if mechanics, sawyers, school teachers, or teamsters, they may be at once comfortably settled amongst us. A large share of country is yet unsettled on this coast. Our vast iron mines, salt springs, gold mines, water power, bodies of timber, grazing lands, and much arable lands lie yet mostly unwatered. We invite two hundred thousand good and true Union men of the United States and elsewhere, to come to us, and help build up our country, support the glorious old "Stars and Stripes," and help us, if we will help them, to keep this coast free from evil traitors and pirates.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

LADIES' FAIR.—The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church, of our city, have a Fair to-night at Metropolis Hall, on Front street. The public are respectfully invited.

A CHASE.—Sunday night, about half-past ten o'clock, a man entered a China house of ill-fame, and after knocking down a woman and robbing her of ten dollars, made out of the door and started down street on a full run, followed by a dozen Chinamen. He outstripped them all, and sought a hiding place under the wharf back of the Pioneer Hotel, where he could not be found, notwithstanding a vigilant search was made by the policemen.

RUNAWAY AND SMASH UP.—A two-horse team, laden with merchandise for Mr. Butler, of Independence, Polk county, took fright yesterday afternoon, and run up Front street, breaking the wagon and scattering the ictas along the street.

UNION HOTEL.—Our farmers and travelers are recommended to this new house, on the corner of First and Yamhill streets. We know that they will fall into good hands, and no more devoted Union man can be found in the State than Mr. Cummings.

HOMESTEADS.—Those in want of homes are referred to this morning's advertisements. Rare bargains are to be had.

MARCH OF VOLUNTEERS.—The volunteers at Camp Downey are ordered to march east on the 20th September, to protect the overland mail.

Expedition to the New Mines.

We received on Saturday the following statement from Messrs. Adams & Rodgers, who are at the head of the party, a portion of which left Portland about the 1st inst., for the reported newly discovered mines on the Malheur. The arrival of the train from the mines at the Mountain House, coming in for provisions, would lead to the belief that rich discoveries have been found, as reported. But we must be patient for further news:

MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Sept. 5, 1861.

EDS. OREGONIAN:

Since our party left Portland for the newly discovered mines, they have been subjected to many insults and impositions. The causes of these seem to be in the discovery of the mines. There is a party in Salem that wish to enjoy all these advantages. We do not care who has the credit of the discovery, provided we can enjoy a portion of the benefits. We left the settlements on the 2d of September, and arrived at Foster's, on the Clackamas, in good season, on the 3d of September. All those who had engaged to join us came in on the 4th, except those that were prevented by the influence of Mattoon & Co. These persons endeavored to induce our party to go by Eugene, and caused a good deal of confusion among us. One of our party, Mr. James Clinton, left Salem late, and traveled in haste to overtake us. He was met by Mattoon & Co. about five miles from Mr. Foster's, and was forced to say, by having about twenty revolvers pointed at him, that the newly discovered gold mines was all a humbug, got up by his company. Mr. Clinton told them to shoot, but at the same time told them that his revolver was not loaded.

On our arrival at the Mountain House, today, fifteen miles from Foster's, we found a party, with twenty-five or thirty animals, with empty packs, returning for supplies, to take to the new mines. We were surprised that the new mines had been discovered by others. On questioning this party, it was found that they had been at work near the mines found by Adams; and they said to us that Adams had found their prospects. Time will prove whether Adams' has led about the new discoveries.

We have some sixty or seventy men with us. We should be very foolish to put our necks into a halter by leading these men on a wild goose chase. We have no doubt the truth will show that we have larger prospects for gold than have ever been found in Oregon or California.

Capt. Pierce's prospects are not more than seventy miles from us; and we do not believe they are more than twenty or thirty. You will hear from us in the Tygh Valley.

Yours, &c.,
J. E. ADAMS, ALLEN RODGERS.

I corroborate the statement in reference to Mr. Peter De Lor, of the French Prairie, returning for provisions for this company.

FRED. STEVERS,
of the Mountain House.

The undersigned state that Messrs. Mattoon & Co. wanted us to go with their company, because, as they stated, they were not strong enough to meet the hostile Indians. They stated that Adams & Co. had not been to the mines; and it is our opinion that they wanted to break up the company of Adams & Co., and nothing more.

For sale by SMITH & DAVIS, Agents, Portland, and by Druggists generally.

marl6dly DR. H. ADOLPHUS, San Francisco.

Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.—A specific for dyspepsia, diarrhœa, dysentery, general debility, chills and fever, liver complaint, bilious remittent fevers, and the pains and weakness which creep upon us in old age. For these ailments are quietly invited a trial and a verdict. The trial has come off, the verdict has been rendered, and the Bitters are to-day the most popular remedy, for the time they have been in existence in this or any other country. It lives and continues to thrive at increasing popularity with marvelous rapidity, simply because the world wants it, will have it, cannot do without it. The dyspeptic demands it as his only help. The victims of diarrhœa or dysentery believes in it; the bilious sufferer dare not let a bottle run out before he gets another. Both sexes, all ages, all classes, regard it as the most wonderful invigorant ever compounded. Hear the enormous demand. Sold everywhere by Druggists, Liquor Dealers, and Grocers. The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Heard is an illustrious example—a shining light among the philosophical stars of this age in Europe; and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled them in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the Hungary adjourdon degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Hussar army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please inclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attendance to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
